West End Cabinet & Joinery .....

West End is committed to offering a complete service before, during and after installation. A client's relationship with the Company begins with competitively priced and detailed quotations, and continues after installation is complete, to ensure total satisfaction. Clients are encouraged to visit West End's premises during production to ensure every detail of a specification is accurately reproduced.

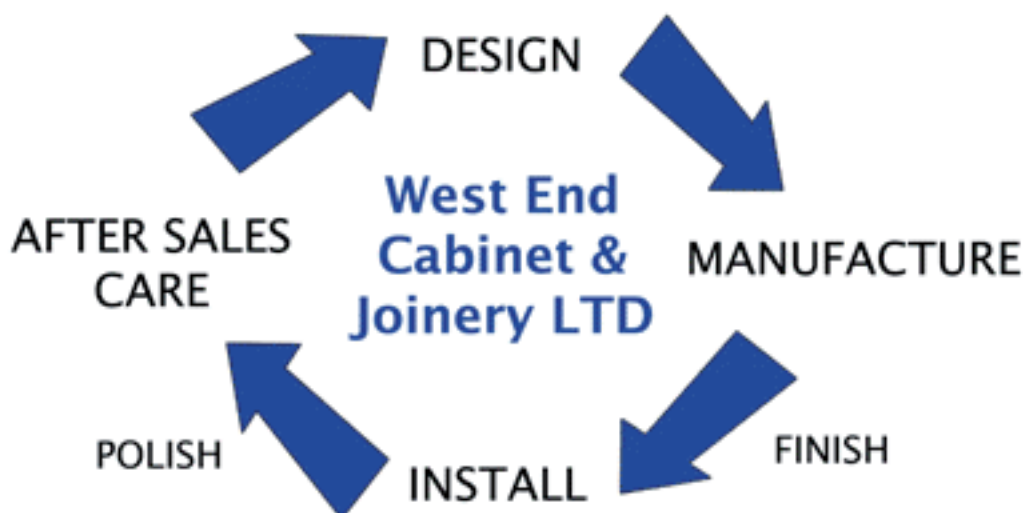

Years of experience allow West End, working closely with architects and clients, to ensure effective delivery and co-ordination of all on site services.

- Specialist architectural joinery
- Bar & Shop fitting
- Specialist laboratory fittings
- Bespoke reception desks
- Hardwood or Softwood screens
- Bespoke kitchen units
- Hardwood conservatories

Using a combination of traditionally skilled craftsmen and well equipped modern production premises, with its own plastic laminate fabrication unit, West End can offer a range of skill and expertise to suit every client's needs.

Registered with Construction Line, the Company now caters for the needs of both the public and private sectors. Clients include major national and local contractors, government institutions such as hospitals and universities, and individuals who are seeking the highest quality and standards of work.

Laboratory and Specialist fittings

West End has developed a reputation for the production of high specification specialist laboratories, and produces benches and fittings to Health Technical Memorandum (HTM) requirements. As a member of Construction Line, the Company has a number of public agencies amongst its clients for such work, including universities, hospitals and police authorities.

West End is one of the few companies with its own plastic lamination fabrication department within our production unit. With access to a wide range of technical expertise necessary for laboratory fitting, this means that the company can offer a total service and be competitive on price.

Bar & Shop fitting

West End offers a complete bar and shop fitting service, with full co-ordination and management of on site work to the highest standards. Clients for such work include major national and local, retail stores, bars and restaurants. The skill and precision associated with West End means their work is sought after for locations with the most exacting requirements, such as the Metro Centre, Gateshead in the North East of England. The company's experience means work is completed on budget and on time.

A combination of skilled craftsmanship and modern equipment means that West End can complete the majority of manufacture off site at their production unit, prior to installation. Care, accuracy and precision of production ensures that installation can be quick, causing the minimum disruption on site.

Through years of experience at interpreting architect's and designer's visions, the Company has built a range of contacts which allows it to source the best and most exciting traditional and contemporary materials and fittings available.

Commissions

West End is experiencing a growing demand for its services and skills from private clients, seeking a unique room fitting or piece of furniture. From an individual boardroom table to a complete kitchen or bedroom, the Company undertakes bespoke commissions to the highest standards.

West End is happy to offer a personal design service or interpret existing commissioned designs. Both traditional and contemporary bespoke commissions can be undertaken in clients' homes, providing individually styled interiors of the highest quality.

The combination of the highest quality traditional craftsmanship and access to both traditional materials, such as a wide range of timbers, and more contemporary materials, such as steel, stone and granite, ensure a unique finish to any bespoke commission.

Specialist Architectural Joinery

A reputation for excellent craftsmanship and service, has made West End one of the leading specialist architectural joinery companies around. The company's work ranges from corporate suites to single unit reception areas, and from contemporary schemes to the detailed reproduction of the work of 18th century craftsmen.

The company encourages a relationship with its clients, which means that clients can visit the production premises and be involved throughout the production process. This ensures that West End can satisfy the client's needs down to the smallest detail of colour and finish, bringing designers or architects drawings to life.

Like many of its clients West End is conscious of the need to protect the world's resources. That's why the Company has access to a range of hardwoods from managed forests around the world, as well as managed home grown timbers.
